

A great opportunity in a great place

Throughout the program, you will work with some of the most dedicated people in health care. You will meet people who can help you, guide you and offer you new perspectives. You will hear from Boston Scientific's leaders about the future direction of our business as well as have opportunities to meet with other program participants to collaborate and share ideas. You will gain the kind of experience that will directly support your professional goals.

CFO Perspective

"The Finance Leadership Development Program is a critical part of ensuring we have the talent and future leaders to continue our track record of success."

Daniel J. Brennan
Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer

FLDP Alumni Perspective

"The FLDP has given me the opportunity to explore different areas of Finance to better understand how Boston Scientific operates as a Global company. I have formed many valuable relationships throughout my experience with former team members, mentors, and peers which has helped me understand various Finance roles from different perspectives."

Kayla Sollitto
Class of 2019

"The FLDP gave me a unique opportunity to start my career with a built-in support system. Through networking events, exposure to senior leadership, and collaborative opportunities with my FLDP colleagues, the program prepared me to be a detail-oriented analyst, business partner, and leader!"
