

Boston Scientific is committed to building diversity and inclusion into every aspect of our company, including our supply chain. We support small and diverse businesses that share our dedication to advancing science and improving the quality of patient care.

Our diverse supply chain program involves including small and diverse business in our procurement process and fostering a culture that promotes the economic development and sustainability of small and diverse enterprises in the communities in which we work and live. Boston Scientific is a member and supporter of several national and local supplier diversity organizations. Our collaboration with these enterprises supports the economic and social vitality these businesses bring to their communities and helps our organization to be more innovative and agile.

Mike Mahoney

Chairman & CEO