

November 2014

Dear Patient,

Boston Scientific has recently sent new information to your doctor about your heart defibrillator.

Information for patients

An optional feature within certain AUTOGEN™ defibrillator models has occasionally not performed as expected. If this feature has been turned ON in your device, your doctor can turn it OFF during your next clinic visit. Your device will continue to function properly without this feature activated.

What should you do?

Please go to all scheduled clinic visits as requested by your doctor. You may wish to talk with your doctor about this letter during your next visit. Your own doctor knows best how this information relates specifically to you.

Sincerely,

Kenneth Stein, MD, FACC, FHRS
Senior Vice President and Chief Medical Officer
